

ONLY SEVEN LEFT

BIOGRAPHY

If you think there's a minimum age for serious rock, Dutch pianorock band Only Seven Left will prove you wrong. These five young guys are ready to play their contagious tunes for the entire world.

INSPIRATIONS

The main inspirations for Only Seven Left are Jack's Mannequin, The Spill Canvas and Relient K. The piano is the most important ingredient for their melancholic songs - together with poetic lyrics and sweet melodies.

FOREVER IS A LIE

When brothers Jochem and Hinne started the band in 2006, they instantly got attention from new fans. Their first release 'Forever Is A Lie' received an overwhelming response from the press and the band got to play on Tinadag, one of the largest Dutch festivals for teenage girls.

EGYPT

In 2008 Only Seven Left released their single 'October Tune' and were then asked to do a short tour in Egypt. In 2009 Only Seven Left opened for the popular US pop punk band Metro Station in Amsterdam.

FANS

The new single 'My Side Of The Story' turned out to be YouTube hit, mainly due to the Only Seven Left fans who were the stars of the video.

HIGH ROTATION

In January 2010 they recorded 'Wake Up Call' with Arno Krabman. It was mastered by Troy Glessner (Anberlin, Copeland). Right after its release 'Wake Up Call' was played on national radio and the music video stayed on high rotation on Dutch MTV for 13 weeks.

TOKIO HOTEL

Only Seven Left expanded their fanbase during their sold out tour with Dutch pop punk band Destine. In February German rockers Tokio Hotel visited The Netherlands and Only Seven Left were asked to be their support act in Ahoy. This was the largest venue they have played so far, playing for over 7000 people.

SUMMER

While working on their debut album, Only Seven Left played a seemingly endless list of summer festivals. The band also decided not to sign with a label because they believed their DIY strategy has proven itself so far.

DEBUT ALBUM

In September 2010 their very first headline tour will kick off and their debut album 'It Was All A Dream' will be released, alongside a super catchy new single and music video.

21

Now with an average age of just 21 Only Seven Left are still young, but are experienced enough to entertain and please a crowd, so come and see for yourselves! Sing along and dance or just sit back, relax and listen. But don't miss your chance to see this fresh rock sensation in action!
